

Outsourcing life cycle

Legal issues play a role throughout the entire outsourcing life cycle. There is a clear advantage to having legal experts help you determine your strategy and the feasibility of the outsourcing arrangement. Together, you can identify potential risks and essential preconditions more quickly. Van Doorne can also guide you through the procurement process and negotiations, and assist you in documenting the agreements made.

Are you considering renewing an existing outsourcing transaction, reversing it or engaging a different outsourcing partner? Continuity and uninterrupted operations are particular concerns when changing partners, as is the impact on the position of employees. We can help smooth the transition to the desired situation.
